Welcome Some homes are about the house. This one is about the house AND the setting. Backing to acres of farmland, the backyard delivers the kind of peaceful Colorado backdrop that is increasingly hard to find-wide-open skies, beautiful sunsets & mountain views. In the distance, catch glimpses of the Poudre River Trail, part of approximately 45 miles of paved trail connecting Bellvue to Greeley. Inside, this 5-bedroom, 3-bath home is anything but builder grade. Engineered wood flooring flows throughout most of the main level & continues upstairs into the loft & hallways, with ceiling fans added to nearly every room. A brick accent wall gives the main-floor office character, while stone added to the fireplace wall creates a warm focal point in the living space. The upgraded kitchen features a gas range, tile backsplash & newer KitchenAid & Bosch stainless steel appliances. Even the pantry received a makeover with beautiful cabinetry, abundant storage and a tucked-away coffee station. Upstairs, the spacious primary suite offers room for your own sitting area plus an impressively large walk-in closet. Four upstairs bedrooms feature newer carpet, while the versatile loft can become a library, game room or second family room. Mountain views can be enjoyed from multiple rooms upstairs
